

General Education Development Preparation (GED)

The General Education Development (GED) program focuses on the development of reading, writing, mathematics, science, and social studies skills in preparation for the GED exam. Students enrolled in the GED program will take periodic practice tests to assess their progress and readiness to take the GED exam. The exam is offered at various sites throughout the state and is administered by the State of Connecticut at monthly intervals. New Britain Adult Education is a registration site.

